House Passes Bill to Raise Highway Patrol to 600 Men

Would Charge Contempt

Wants Prosecution Of Union Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Government Operations Committee today recommended that four officials of the Teamsters Union be prosecuted on contempt of Congress charges.

One of the four is Einar O. Mohn, executive vice president of the giant union.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said the committee voted 12-0 to press cases against the four officials, who refused to answer a number of questions in the Senate Investigations subcommittee's hearings last month on alleged racketeering in labor unions and industry. They challenged the authority of the subcommittee, a unit of the Government Operations Committee, McClellan heads both.

The contempt citations now go to the Senate, which will be asked to vote to refer them to the Justice Department for possible prosecution. Contempt of Congress is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 and as much as a year in prison.

The contempt citations were initiated by the subcommittee against Mohn; Frank W. Brewster, a union vice president and head of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters; Nugent Lapoma, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 174 in Seattle, and Harry Reiss, secretary - treasurer of Local 284 in New York City.

All four challenged the authority of the subcommittee to question them about union matters, and Brewster and Lapoma refused to turn over union records which the subcommittee had subpoenaed. Mohn is a top lieutenant to Union President Dave Beck, who has been engaged in a long-range row with the subcommittee. McClellan said Beck will be subpoenaed.

McClellan also disclosed his subcommittee "very likely" will hold early closed door hearings soon to investigate contracts the Army awarded last November to Wynn Enterprises, Inc., Knoxville, Tenn., of which Mrs. Ross is president. Ross, a former vice president of the firm, has said he severed connections with it in 1952 when he was elected to Congress. He has denied any wrongdoing.

One issue in the inquiry is an $884,150 clothing contract the Army awarded last November to Wynn Enterprises, Inc., Knoxville, Tenn., of which Mrs. Ross is president. Ross, a former vice president of the firm, has said he severed connections with it in 1952 when he was elected to Congress. He has denied any wrongdoing.

West German Officer Gets Post in NATO

PARIS (AP)—West German Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel has finally been named commander of NATO land forces in Central Europe. He assumes his new duties April 1, the first German to hold a top post in the North Atlantic command.

U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied powers in Western Europe, announced the appointment. It had been expected for weeks, despite some objections in France and Britain to giving the important post to the former chief of staff to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

Norstad's announcement said the appointment was made "with the concurrence of the powers concerned." France was reported to have agreed finally because French forces in NATO have been reduced considerably due to the situation in Algeria.

The French also were said to regard Speidel — who drafted the terms for France's surrender in 1940 — as having been a military thinker and planner rather than a field commander for Hitler. In his new post he succeeds a Frenchman, Gen. Marcel Carpentier, who resigned last year.

Speidel is a 59-year-old bespectacled officer who has a PH. D. degree and speaks French fluently. He was on Rommel's staff during the Normandy invasion and is credited in part with the decision not to dynamite the Seine River bridges when the Germans evacuated Paris.

He was accused of implication in the July 1944 plot to bomb Hitler but denied having any share in it. The Gestapo arrested him Sept. 7, 1944, and jailed him. He escaped and went into hiding before the war ended.

After the war he taught history at Tuebingen University. He was West Germany's first representative at NATO headquarters, where he has gotten along well with the multinational staff.

Van Dyne Leaves MU, Enrolls at Oklahoma

COLUMBIA (AP)—Charles (Van) Van Dyne, promising freshman sport star, has surrendered his athletic scholarship at the University of Missouri and has enrolled at the University of Oklahoma.

Van Dyne, who starred in basketball, football and track at Smith-Cotton High School in Sedalia, played on the freshman football team and reported for basketball.

Don Faurot, director of athletics, said the move was on Van Dyne's initiative.

"He was a fine lad and a good athlete," Faurot said. "But when we became convinced he was not happy here and wished to go to Oklahoma, we gave our approval."

Also Increases Salaries All Along the Line

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill to increase State Highway Patrol strength to 600 men and increase salaries all along the line—a recommendation of Gov. James T. Blair Jr.

The increase in uniformed manpower from the present 355 men, plus pay hikes, has been recommended widely as one means of helping to reduce the bloody record of deaths and injuries on Missouri's highways that reached 1,223 deaths in 1956.

Sponsors of the bill were able to take the bill up as the first matter before the House this morning so they could use the $10 expense roll call to pass the measure.

But an argument began and it looked like the vote would be delayed. So Rep. Joseph Beckerle (D) of St. Louis asked for an immediate vote to see if there was a working quorum present. He refused to withdraw the motion and, then, after the vote, he left the chamber.

That put the patrol bill on its own. The vote was somewhat lightened but it still passed 118-12. Rep. Arthur D. Smith (R) of Jasper County, who tried to amend the measure last week so there would be no pay increases and the manpower increase would be sharply curtailed, led the fight against the bill today.

"I see some good in this bill," he said, "but it is microscopic." He said the patrol should not have more than 400 men and the present salaries are adequate.

Many House Committees Hold Sessions

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Yesterday was action day for House committees.

At almost any hour of the day, from 9:30 in the morning to the same hour at night there were one or more committees in session, trying to decide what bills should be killed quickly and what ones should be sent to the floor for approval or rejection. All told, 13 committees met during the day.

Among bills approved for House action were ones to:

Set up statewide permanent registration of voters, to replace laws that now require registration only in cities of more than 10,000 population.

Require that hinges be removed from unused iceboxes or refrigerators so youngsters couldn't possibly lock themselves in and smother to death.

Authorize the State Highway stretch of U. S. 71 alternate from Carthage to Neosho as the George Washington Carver Memorial Highway, in honor of the famed Negro agricultural scientist who was born near Diamond, Mo.

Raise the maximum blind pension from the present $60 a month to $70.

Let the arresting officer accept bail of from $25 to $100 in traffic violation cases, so the motorist could complete his trip before returning to appear in magistrate court.

A few new bills came in during the day, including ones to:

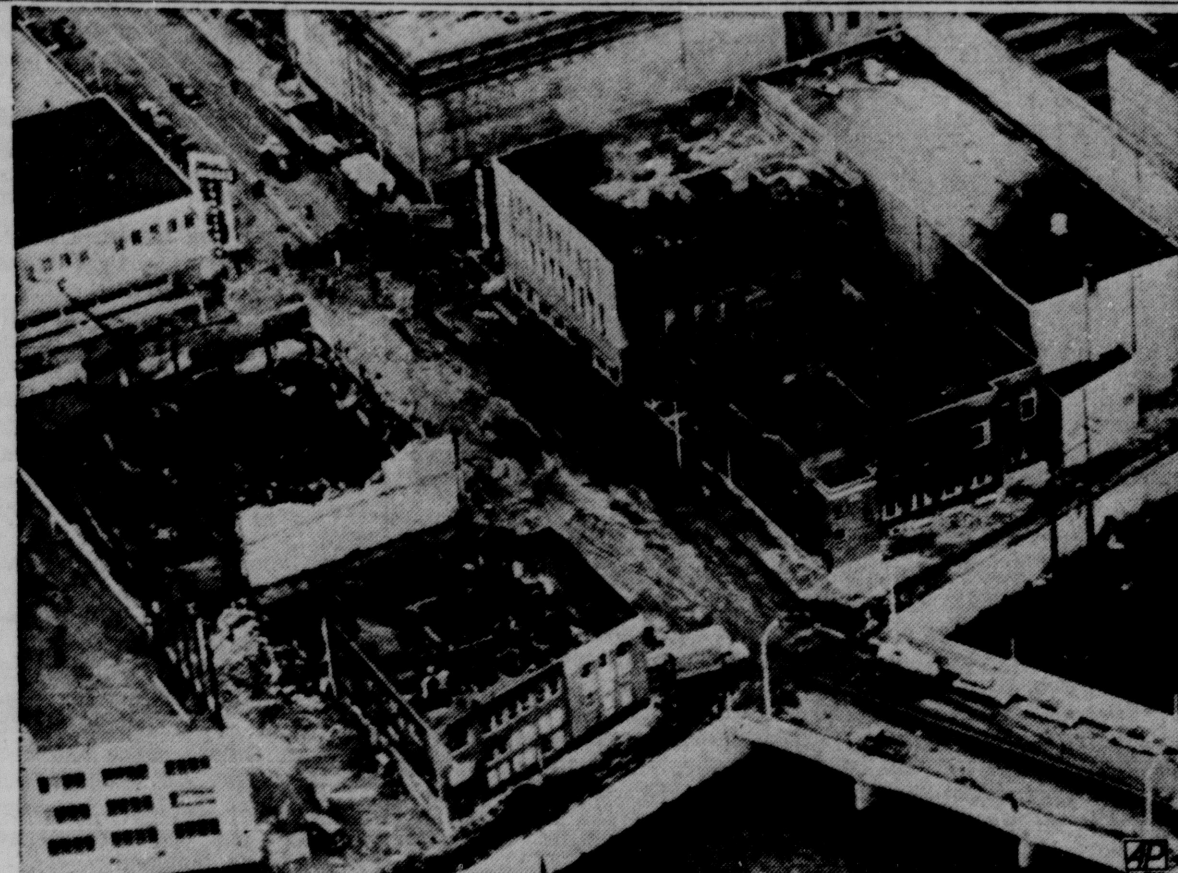

Give third class county prosecutors would get $800.

Set up a state price control commission that could regulate floor and ceiling prices on milk at the wholesale and retail levels. Sponsors said it would protect little producers, distributors from the price-cutting of big operators.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today conservation is the responsibility of the people and not something to be imposed by the federal government.

Benson said in a speech prepared for the concluding session of an annual convention of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts that a drift toward centralization of power isn't inevitable and "can be slowed down, halted, reversed."

"We know that the only successful programs are those initiated, and developed by the local people, and managed by them, with the help of both state and federal governments where need-

Would Need Them In War

Hershey Sees Training Need Of Young Fathers, Others

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of the draft system said today "it would seem wise . . . and humane" to give some military training to many of the men now deferred because of parenthood or other causes.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said in testimony prepared for a House committee that it is "disquieting" to think of what the United States would have to do if it suddenly had to build up its armed forces by two million men.

He said the "two choices, both bad," would be "to recall at least one million of generally unorganized former servicemen, aging reservists, or take one million untrained who have not served, but unfortunately have not trained."

Hershey said that of the nation's pool of about five million men at the best age for military service, 1,300,000 are available for duty, 1,400,000 are fathers and 2,300,000 are classified as "unacceptable" for various reasons.

The pool of 1,300,000 available men, he continued, would probably "shrink all too fast" in case of need. But in any case, he said, men in this group "should be trained and used to replace the aging men among the 2½ million men who have already served varying terms of service."

Hershey went on to say that many of the fathers and "unacceptables" could "perform well, especially in a ready reserve."

"If there is a large mobilization they will be taken," he said. "It would seem wise for the nation and humane for them if they were trained."

The subcommittee is studying military reserve programs, especially one the Army wants to expand. Under this plan, men take six months active duty training, then go into a ready reserve drilling unit.

UN Secretary Asks Israel For Statement

Conditions Set Out By Israel Brings Counter-Request

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Israel's conditions for pulling out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip brought a counter request from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld that the Israelis spell out their own intentions.

Hammarskjöld disclosed last night that he had asked Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban to find out from his government:

1. If Israel will allow the U.N. Emergency Force to post troops on its side of the Egyptian-Israeli armistice line.

2. Whether Israel recognizes that the General Assembly resolutions passed last weekend call for the Israelis to withdraw their administrative units as well as their troops behind that line.

Israel has such units in the Gaza Strip and has proposed continuing her administration of that disputed area even if her troops pull out.

The Israeli delegation announced earlier it had submitted to the secretary general several conditions for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast and the Gaza Strip.

Israel demanded assurance from Egypt that she would refrain from shooting once Israel pulled out and that the Egyptians would not renew their blockade of Israeli-bound shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Hammarskjöld had separate half-hour interviews with Eban and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. There was no indication, however, that Egypt would give any assurances or had been asked for any.

The letter was reportedly sent by Nelson R. Porter of Hartford, Vt., whose son, David L. Porter, was among the recruits making the accusations. The elder Porter was reported en route here.

The drill instructors were not identified.

The New York Times and New York Daily News, in dispatches from Parris Island, quoted the elder Porter as saying his son had been struck on the head with a steel bar.

The Times quoted Col. Robert Vance, chief of staff of the Recruiting Training Command, as saying: "There is no evidence to indicate he (young Porter) was struck with a steel bar. We have nothing to substantiate any such statement. Several boys were hospitalized."

The News quoted Capt. James F. Mahoney as saying: "It has not been established how Porter (Please turn to page 6, column 4)

Investing Bill Gets Approval

Makes Voted Change Law, Specifies Some Limitations

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A bill spelling out the way State Treasurer M. E. Morris should invest idle government funds won preliminary approval in the Missouri House today.

It puts into statutory law the constitutional change approved overwhelmingly by the voters last fall and puts some limitations on the kind of investments the treasurer can make.

Currently about $56 million of money not needed for day to day operations of the state government is out at one per cent interest in 30-day time deposits.

Morris has announced plans to keep $40 million in three active checking accounts, which draw no interest, and about $50 million in 30-day time deposits. Any money above that would go into 90-day U. S. treasury bills, now paying three per cent.

The bill would write this plan into law. The maximum yield the state can get is defined as the maximum interest allowable on 30-day time deposits and 90-day government obligations by Federal Reserve regulations.

Sen. Hartwell G. Crain sought to change this limitation. He said the treasurer should have the leeway to make longer time deposits so the state could get a greater yield from its unused money. That could mean 2½ per cent on deposits left in the banks for six months.

Crain's plan was defeated on a voice vote after opponents objected it would mean small banks could not compete for the state money and the state's economy would be harmed.

Sen. Floyd R. Gibson (D) of Independence, handling the bill, said security and liquidity were more important than yield.

Advancing the idle funds bill to position for passage was the Senate's only major business before it adjourned until Monday afternoon.

Earlier a bill to increase unemployment compensation benefits for jobless workers was reported favorably.

Navy Pilot Dies Near Persons He Honored

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Capt. William R. (Killer) Kane, commander of the aircraft carrier Saipan, died in a Navy jet crash only a few miles from the homes of 28 persons he knew personally. Five of them lived less than a mile from Tuesday's jet crash. The 28 were Kane's guests aboard the Saipan last August. Kane gave them certificates designating them honorary pilots.

Angry Riot By Inmates Is Quelled

Revolt Is Mixture Of Destruction, Care for Hostages

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—Rioting convicts knuckled under early today after ruling Utah State Prison for nearly 12 hours of uncontrolled revolt that was a strange mixture of violent destruction and almost tender concern for hostages.

Some prisoners went on a wild alcohol-and-power binge; others sat around nonchalantly watching television and looking out for the captives they had seized.

They yielded to Gov. George D. Clyde's firm insistence that he would not even consider their demands until they turned loose their hostages and gave up their weapons.

The wild party ended at 5:55 a.m. The last 18 of the hostages fled out of the convict - controlled section of the modern prison some 20 miles south of salt Lake City. With them came convict spokesmen who surrendered their weapons.

Gov. Clyde said he would now consider the 43 "suggestions" of the prisoners. But first he left the prison and went home to rest after the night - long tension of facing them down.

The State Board of Corrections, governing body of the prison, was called to meet at the prison during the afternoon.

One guard was stabbed and one prisoner beaten during the melee. The prisoner was reported in satisfactory condition and the guard in fair condition.

Prison officials said during early stages of the rioting they could see what appeared to be a body hanging in one of the cell blocks but there was no later confirmation.

The prisoners began retreating to their cells, and authorities went through to make a preliminary survey of damage. State Highway Patrol Supt. Lyle Hyatt said he was preparing a cell-by-cell shake-down.

Urges Local Conservation

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today conservation is the responsibility of the people and not something to be imposed by the federal government.

Benson said in a speech prepared for the concluding session of an annual convention of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts that a drift toward centralization of power isn't inevitable and "can be slowed down, halted, reversed."

"We know that the only successful programs are those initiated, and developed by the local people, and managed by them, with the help of both state and federal governments where need-

He described the nation's small watershed program as "undeniable one of the greatest conservation developments of our time."

The educational work of the federal Extension Service in bringing new conservation developments and techniques from the laboratories to the farm, he said, "is the most outstanding service of its time in the world."

Benson said the inspection tour he and President Eisenhower recently made in drought-stricken sections of the country was a "heartrending" experience. He was impressed greatly, he said, with farms and ranches where people "had based their operations on the expectancy of drought."

"They had combined wise land use with the best known modern conservation practices," Benson said. "And they have come through, thus far, not without hardship, but with much less damage, much less loss than many others in the same area. To me, this is a dramatic demonstration of the value of conservation methods of farm and ranch management."

Benson reviewed steps proposed under the government's Great Plains program and said the administration plans to step up its regular land use and conservation programs in the Great Plains incomes during the year ahead," and the Southwest. Recently enacted legislation enables the government to enter 10-year contracts for cost-sharing that he said will "see farmers through a gradual period of land use adjustment that will cushion the effects of future droughts."

Benson reported prices received by farmers are running seven per cent above a year ago, that net farm income last year was five per cent greater than in 1955 and that the government's holdings in surplus farm products were reduced.

"Our outlook specialists," he said, "expect further modest increases in farm prices and farm

New Defense Mobilizer Has One Major Quality—Patience

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gordon Gray has been heard to say of himself: "I'm not smarter than anybody else; I'm just more patient."

That quality of patience—together with unremitting hard work—is said by his friends to be one of the secrets of his success in business, education and politics.

At 47, Gray has been a high official in both the Truman and university president and a leading newspaper publisher in North Carolina.

Yesterday, President Eisenhower announced he was nominating Gray to succeed retiring Arthur S. Flemming as the nation's defense mobilizer.

Although born to wealth—his family made millions in the tobacco business—Gray is an apostle of hard work. He has been known to average 9 or 10 hours a day at his office and to carry full briefcases home afterward.

He didn't want to go to college—but he led his class at the University of North Carolina. Twenty years later, he became president of his alma mater.

He didn't want to go to law school either—but his father persuaded him to go and he graduated high in his class at the Yale Law School.

He did want to get in uniform, entered the Army as a private in 1942, came out a captain—and was secretary of the Army under President Truman seven years after he was a private.

Since then he has held other important federal posts.

In 1951 he was appointed director of the Psychological Strategy Board created by Truman to direct the cold war against Russia.

In 1955 Eisenhower called him back to Washington from his university post, this time to become assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs. He holds that job now.

Gray is a former state legislator and a former president of the Young Democrats of his state. But he has stated he voted for Eisenhower.

He was born in Baltimore, Md., May 30, 1909. His father Bowman Gray started as a salesman for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. and rose ultimately to chairman of the board.

After his first wife Jane died in 1953, Gray married the former Nancy Maguire Beebe. He is the father of four boys and the step-father of three girls.

He is president of the Piedmont Publishing Co., which publishes the Winston-Salem Journal and the Twin-City Sentinel at Winston-Salem, N.C.

US Reds Face Big Decision On Policies

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Communist party will consider sweeping changes in policy at its 16th national convention opening here Saturday.

At stake is the bitterly debated issue of whether it will continue to hew to traditional Marxism-Leninism, with the Kremlin as the guiding spirit, or take a more independent stand.

About 300 delegates elected on a regional basis are expected to attend. They will represent a membership estimated by the party at 25,000.

Some of the convention program is expected to be "open," but most sessions dealing with issues vital to the party will be closed.

The debate will center around a resolution drafted last September by the party's national committee, calling for re-examination of certain Marxist-Lenin theories on the ground they may have become outdated or obsolete.

William Z. Foster, national chairman, is regarded as the party's chief proponent for adhering to the traditional Marxist-Lenin line.

His chairmanship could hinge on the convention action. The delegates will elect a national committee, which in turn decides who will serve as chairman.

A leading advocate of "sweeping changes" is John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper. He and his forces are known to the old-line Reds as "right-wingers."

Eugene Dennis, party secretary, generally is represented as favoring some change, but not to the extent proposed by Gates.

The Soviet Communist party has indicated plainly that it favors the Foster faction.

Gates outlined his philosophy

Two Sedalia Youths Will Appear In Opera Given In Kansas City

Chester O'Bannon

Dick Shoemaker

Two Sedalia youths will appear in the opera "Othello" which will be presented by the Kansas City Playhouse assisted by the Kansas City University Feb. 6-9. They are Chester O'Bannon, bass, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. O'Bannon, 506 East 15th, who will have the lead in the opera and Dick Shoemaker, tenor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shoemaker, 1509 East Fourth, who will have the part of a herald.

Chester had one of the minor leads in the opera "Don Gio Dinni" last year. This is his third year at the Kansas City University, and for the past two years he has been in the chorus at the Starlight Theatre.

This is Dick's first year at the Kansas City University and at Christmas time both Chester and Dick were featured with the Kansas City University Choir when it appeared at the Smith-Cotton High School here.

Both boys were outstanding in the field of music when students at Smith-Cotton, won many honors and recognition, and also had leads in the high school productions. Both were voice students of Mrs. A. R. Beach, and Dickie, who is also a pianist, was a pupil of Mrs. Jewell Harter Thomas.

Former Actress Stops Final Divorce Decree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former actress Anne Nagel, 41, who got an interlocutory divorce from Air Force Lt. Col. James H. Keenan, 44, nearly six years ago, has succeeded in preventing him from making the decree final.

Under California law a reconciliation within one year of the granting of an interlocutory decree invalidates the decree.

Competition Step-up Seen This Spring

NEW YORK (AP)—Competition of one industry with another is set to get sharper this coming spring—especially if the business boom should level off.

Some industries are raising campaign chests to aid in the fight with other industries for the consumer's dollar.

And some look for allies in surprising quarters—tight money and the discount houses.

Both the men's wear and the women's wear industries, for example, complain that while the population has been rising and consumers' income left over after taxes has been growing, their share of the dollars spent has been shrinking for several years now.

It's time for a change, they vow. Some think the change is due when the stores start promoting their spring lines.

Belief that tight money could help them rises from this: in recent years the big gain in the share of dollars spent has been by the makers and sellers of durable goods—the big ticket items like autos and appliances—and by the home builders.

These are among those complaining the most about tight money, which not only makes it harder to finance their businesses, but may, they fear, cut them off from some of their marginal customers.

Apparel makers think that consumers, finding it more costly to finance big-ticket items, will turn to soft goods and have more money left over to spend in the stores to increase their wardrobes.

Aid from the discount houses is even more problematical. But the argument there goes like this: department stores in a battle for business with the discount houses (concentrating mostly on gadgets and big-ticket items) have been cutting their own profit margins on durables. This leaves the profit margins on soft goods a better money maker for the stores and may make merchants push these lines harder in their promotion schemes.

On his way to see his wife in the hospital Florey was arrested for going through a stop sign.

Back at the farm a badger got into his hen house and killed 150 chickens.

Then seven skunks moved in to live in the badger runways.

His dog ran away. Dry weather, then rain and hail storms damaged his crops. Wind blew down a lot of his corn.

His brother Charles died in August.

Finally, the other night, the clothes dryer in his house caught fire.

The Sunday School of the New Salem Baptist Church held a surprise birthday dinner Sunday honoring three of their oldest and most faithful members, namely, J. M. After the congregation sang "Happy Birthday," they were asked by the pastor, the Rev. W. R. Hollis, to come to the front of the room where individual greetings were extended them by members of the congregation. They were even more surprised when they learned that a dinner was

New Mattingly Store Going Up In Marshall Soon

It is store No. 37 coming up in the Mattingly Brothers variety chain store organization.

Hugh Mattingly, president of the corporation that operates a group of 36 stores in Missouri, said at the firm's executive offices in Lexington that his company plans to open a new installation at Marshall.

A lease for the premises has been signed for the company to take over the building now occupied by Scott Stores. Under terms of the agreement, the Mattingly chain takes possession April 1.

The firm's board has approved plans for the establishment of a modern store at Marshall, a self-service layout, that will include ultra-design fixtures and lighting.

The present organization is the outgrowth of the original store founded in Odessa 42 years ago with a $1400 investment. The organization is a Missouri chain with all units operating within the state.

Cuba's economy today depends largely on sugar. Other chief exports are tobacco, copper and manganese.

Dentist Suggests Reversing Courses

BRISTOL, R.I. (AP)—Dr. Nicholas Migliaccio, a dentist, suggests a good way to beat dental decay would be to begin meals with desserts and end with vegetables. This, he told a meeting of Rotarians, would wash away the deposits of sugar ordinarily left in the mouth at the end of a meal topped off by a sweet dessert.

Thieves Steal Teeth

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pillferers took only one item when they ransacked Walter L. King's automobile in west Los Angeles, but it was highly important to King and he made a report forthwith to the police. He told officers his false teeth are missing.

Midwinter Weather Continues in East; Fair in Western US dreary midwinter weather—cloudy skies, fog and drizzle—continued today in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation.

Generally fair weather was reported in most of the western areas although light snow fell from northern Idaho eastward across Montana into Western North Dakota.

During the night fog blanketed much of the area from northern Texas to northern Illinois and eastward through Tennessee and the Ohio Valley to the Atlantic Coast. Drizzle and rain sprinkled many sections.

Visits to Extension Clubs

Many valuable ideas and suggestions for club programs are presented at extension club meetings.

I visited the Eldorado Extension Club Jan. 31. This club is adding new members who are young mothers and homemakers. The extension program offers a fine educational program for these girls.

This club has a magazine exchange within their group which gives everyone a chance to read more and the good magazines to be used by more than one family. They also voted to exchange flower bulbs and shrubs in March. The club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Edison.

The Longwood Extension Club not only work for their own group but have added a stove to the equipment of the local school. Both the school children and the 4-H club will enjoy the use of the stove. The club also observed Valentine Day making valentines and cookies for a day nursery. I visited this club Tuesday, Feb. 5. The meeting was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hurt.

Cancer Dressings

The extension clubs interested in making cancer dressings should contact Mrs. Lynn Russell, 405 Dal-Whi-Mo, Sedalia, Mo. Telephone 4014, for materials and to find out what size dressing to make.

Young Homemakers School

To date we have 32 enrolled in the Young Homemakers School. The deadline date for enrolling is Feb. 20. Anyone under 35 years of age may enroll by writing or calling the extension office. We need name, address and if you prefer afternoon or evening class.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he doesn't believe voluntary controls will work. He said they had failed under former President Hoover in 1929.

"Any business, although it may be guided by men of the best of good will, has its principal interest in profits," he said. "There are not going to be any voluntary reductions in those profits."

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said he doesn't see any need for controls at this time.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.) of Senate Banking Committee, who has supported the administration's "tight money" policy, said the country might have to go to more direct controls — particularly on consumer credit — if inflationary pressures grow.

"As a practical matter, though," he said, "Congress is not likely to do anything unless the President makes some specific recommendations."

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee said that if Eisenhower is worried about inflation, the President could do something about it himself.

"He could stop this excessive government spending by cutting his own budget just as he cut Truman's budget by nine billion dollars in 1953," Byrd said.

Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All GOP Senators, said the question of controls had not been discussed in the regular weekly meetings of Republican leaders with the President. He said he knew of no imminent message to Congress on the subject.

"Although I favored standby controls, I would be slow to vote for any new controls," Saltonstall said.

Eisenhower said he wasn't asking business and labor to be "altruistic" in holding wage and price increases within limits.

"Their own long-term good is involved," he said, "and I am asking them merely to act as enlightened Americans."

He said when the government begins to control prices, allocations and wages "then it is not the America we know."

Would Cut Federal Liability

Will Soon Post Broad List Of 1957 Price Support Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson will announce soon a broad list of farm product price support rates for 1957 which would reduce the government's financial liability in underwriting farmers' markets.

This year's rates are expected to be set somewhere between 65 and 70 per cent of parity for these grains.

The cotton rate will be close to last year's 29.34 cents a pound for the base grade—¾ inch middling. This was 82½ per cent of parity. No reduction in the cotton rate is expected because supplies are going down under influence of heavy sales under a cut-rate export program.

Suggestions have been made that the support rate for dairy products be reduced in view of the fact that milk production keeps increasing and continues to outstrip markets. But a final decision is expected to continue the present dollar-and-cents rate of $3.25 a hundred pounds for milk and 58.6 cents a pound for butterfat.

Increasing stocks of oilseeds are expected to influence Benson to lower supports for such oilseed crops as soybeans, flaxseed and cottonseed.

Last year's crops are supported at $2.15 a bushel of 75 per cent of parity for soybeans; $3.09 a bushel or 70 per cent of parity for flaxseed and $48.60 a ton or 70 per cent of parity for cottonseed.

This year's rates are expected to be between 65 and 70 per cent of parity for soybeans and 5 points less for each flaxseed and cottonseed.

He Can Thank Policeman's Help for Life

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The hands of a policeman and two physicians combined yesterday to save the life of 9-year-old Gregory Hanson, whose throat was cut in a strange accident that began as a little boy's snowball fight.

A snowball from the innocent hand of another child shattered the glass storm door at the rear of the Hanson home. It was about 5 p.m.

Gregory was standing behind the door and a fragment of glass tore into his throat, piercing the jugular vein. His mother, Mrs. Agnes Hanson, heard her son's cries and carried him into the house.

She said that with each step the blood pumped faster from the wound.

She dashed outside and a few doors away saw Patrolman Milas Nelson, 31. "My boy is bleeding," said Mrs. Hanson.

Nelson shouted, "Call an ambulance," to his companion John Crosby and raced to the house where he found the boy in a pool of blood.

Nelson stuck his right thumb into the wound and squeezed his other fingers tight around Gregory's throat. After the ambulance arrived it was decided Nelson should maintain his hold during the dash to the hospital.

The ambulance reached County Emergency Hospital at 5:22 p.m. and Gregory was rushed to surgery for an emergency operation by Dr. Joseph Miller, staff surgeon, and Dr. Emanuel Onlay, resident surgeon. The boy received seven pints of whole blood and six pints of plasma.

The physicians said Gregory lost about three pints of blood before reaching the hospital. They said he might have died had he lost less than one more pint. Nelson's actions, they felt, probably was the difference between life and death.

Less for each flaxseed and cottonseed.

All We Want Are The Facts, Ma'm

And we get them, too—the bold, bare facts of advertising life—from TV's best known cop (and a shrewd TV producer), name of Jack Webb. Here's what Webb said in a recent interview that made news because it makes sense:

"What's the use of doing a show when it's dying on the vine without benefit of newspaper advertising? I'm the first to admit every 'Dragnet' is not a good one, but our opposition, 'Climax' on CBS, doesn't have a consistently good one, either.

"But they usually beat us to a place in the first 10 by a few points, and I think it's directly due to CBS' saturation advertising campaign for 'Climax' . . .

"CBS is very smart to advertise their shows regularly in the newspapers. NBC advertises spasmodically. I congratulate CBS' Bill Paley for his foresight and intelligence in such advertising.

The Power of Newspaper Advertising

Jack Webb goes on to say, "Those big ads in the newspaper are impressive by the sheer fact they're there. The power of newspaper advertising is so purposeful, so important, that to overlook it you must take a back seat in the ratings.

"'Dragnet' tested this by advertising with its own money for five weeks in Trendex cities, and for that period our show clobbered 'Climax'. The sixth week, we didn't advertise, and they won. I think this is concrete proof of the importance of newspaper advertising."

Admittedly, newspaper advertising is so powerful that even a competing medium—television—thrives on it! Just as newspaper advertising is so effective in building an audience for a TV program, it is equally effective in building customers for a product or a store.

Dan Bixler Is Hurt As Car, Truck Collide

By Mrs. T. W. Miller
TIPTON — Enroute home last week from his stores in California, Dan Bixler was quite severely shaken and bruised along with some facial cuts when his car swerved on the icy pavement at what is known as the Elkhorn crossing just west of California and an oil transport truck following behind his Ford sedan which was practically demolished. Dan was taken to the Latham Sanitarium in California where he remained under treatment until Sunday when he was returned home.

He is getting along satisfactorily. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brant returned Monday following a 12-day stay in Sedalia where Mr. Brant was a patient in the Bothwell Hospital being treated for pneumonia. He is much improved. He was returned home by Conn ambulance service.

Mrs. Brant while he was at the hospital stayed in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brant.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fischer plan to attend a sporting goods show to be held in Chicago, Ill., at the Hotel Morrison which begins Feb. 3 and continues for five days. From their factory in Tipton they will have two of their products on display at the show, a home-style six-pocket pool table and a Town and Country bumper game.

Following a stay 17 days in the Charles E. Still Hospital in Jefferson City, Mrs. C. E. Stone was taken in the Conn ambulance from the hospital last Monday to the Kidwell Rest Home in Versailles where she remains as a resident. Mrs. Stone had two paralytic strokes prior to entering the hospital.

The annual members meeting of the Tipton Building & Loan Association was held at the law offices of Frank J. Quigley Monday afternoon.

Re-elected as directors and officers are D. C. Hardy, president; O. J. Schmidt, vice-president; Frank J. Quigley, secretary-treasurer and attorney; Mrs. Harold Leonard, assistant secretary; Paul Gabert, John Dueber, Ernest Kempf and E. N. Pizer.

The association paid a two per cent dividend for the first six months of the year, a total of four per cent.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Howard, owners of the Tipton Style Shop, were in Kansas City last Sunday and Monday attending the spring wholesale market showing at the Municipal Auditorium.

Snow Explains Scout Work To Lions Club

The Sedalia Lions Club had as its speaker Dick Snow of the Sedalia Boy Scouts of America group, as the opening program of Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6-12. Snow spoke on the activities of the local Scouting units and their achievements in particular.

He reviewed the Scouting organization, how it came to the United States from England, and of the various steps in Scouting. He also reviewed the accomplishments and growth of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, of which Pettis County is a part.

Snow also told of Scouting advancement, beginning with Cubs, and preparing to be Scouts and Explorers. He reviewed the necessity of making arrangements whereby Cub Scouting will more closely dovetail with the Boy Scouts. He explained his belief that more organizations sponsoring Cub Scouting should bring under their sponsorship Scout troops, so the Cub Scouts will feel close to them and will be making a step up rather than being a Cub and having to go elsewhere from his neighborhood to become a member of some Boy Scout Troop.

He also explained the step of organization in Boy Scouts from the local organization through the district, regional and then national.

The speaker was introduced by Richard Goodheart.

Guests at the meeting were Charles Pearson, Kansas City, of Abe Silverman, and Charles Leininger, Kansas City, of John Ellison.

It was announced the Lions Club would sponsor the Kansas State College a cappella choir, which will stop in Sedalia March 6 between engagements at Omaha, Neb., and Kansas City. They will give a concert at the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium that night. Bob Cain, president, conducted the meeting.

Congressman Proposes New Drouth Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to direct the secretary of agriculture to prepare and carry out a permanent pasture reseeding program in drought stricken counties was proposed today by Rep. Charles Brown (D-Mo.).

His bill would allow farmers and ranchers federal assistance of not less than 80 per cent of the cost of seed bed preparation, necessary lime and fertilizer, seeds and seeding in the drought areas. Brown declared the 80 per cent figure "is in line with what the government has done in flood areas."

Brown declared the 80 per cent figure "is in line with what the government has done in flood areas."

Speaking in the House yesterday in favor of a deferred grazing bill, Brown said a law passed by the 81st Congress specifically states the President through the secretary of agriculture shall furnish to established farmers, ranchers and stockmen feed for livestock and seed for planting in disaster areas.

Despite the fact the language is clear, he said, "the secretary of agriculture has never provided any seed to any drought disaster area."

US May Give Both Missiles And Artillery

LONDON (AP)—Authoritative sources say the United States may furnish Britain both guided missiles and artillery weapons to be fitted with British-made atomic warheads.

Defense Minister Duncan Sandys, just back from talks with American defense officials in Washington, told the House of Commons the two governments are studying "a possible scheme for the adoption by Britain of certain American weapons."

Sandys declined to give full details, but the informants gave this picture of what may result from the talks:

1. The British will have to fit their own atomic warheads to any American weapons they obtain for use by strictly British military units. U.S. law prohibits turning over atomic weapons to other countries.

2. U.S. artillery units equipped with atomic warheads may be assigned to support British divisions or for temporary integration into British units.

3. The Americans agreed in principle to help Britain cut its four-billion-dollar annual defense budget and revamp its military manpower program. Details will be worked out.

4. Britain may streamline its four divisions in West Germany in accordance with requirements of the nuclear age. Their total may be cut from 80,000 men to 50,000.

The British Press Assn. speculated that Britain likely will get the U.S. Army's Nike Hercules, a ground-to-air missile said to have a 50-mile range, and the Navy's Talos, a surface-to-air weapon.

The aim is to wipe out tariff barriers among 17 West European countries and join some 250 million consumers into a free trade area and common market for their manufactured goods.

The government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced its approval of the scheme in a White Paper and proposed that the Council of Ministers of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation establish the machinery to negotiate detailed arrangements.

The Council meets in Paris next week, with British Chancellor of the Exchequer Peter Thorneycroft presiding.

France, Western Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg are putting the finishing touches to a common market treaty. Over a period of years it would blot out tariffs among themselves and set up common tariff rules for goods entering the area from outside.

was struck or that he had been struck with an instrument." Mahoney, the News reported, said other recruits charged that drill instructors had "struck them with their hands," and Porter was the only one claiming he had been hit with an instrument.

This Marine depot was catapulted into the national spotlight last April when six recruits drowned in a night disciplinary march into nearby swampland.

S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., the drill instructor who ordered the march, was court-martialed, reduced in rank, fined and spent some time in the brig after sentencing.

There have been other instances here of drill instructors reduced in rank and fined for maltreatment of recruits.

At the San Diego, Calif., Marine recruit depot, a spokesman disclosed yesterday that a drill instructor there was broken from corporal to private first class, relieved of his duties and ordered transferred to another base for striking a recruit.

The spokesman said E. M. Logue, 21, of Atlantic, Iowa, struck the recruit, Pvt. Richard Resendes, 17, of Hayward, Calif., twice in the stomach Jan. 28 during an interview about the recruit's military proficiency.

Sees Possible Oil Program Intervention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today that if the voluntary program for increasing oil shipments to Europe doesn't work better, "it's going to have to be made a government program."

Kefauver voiced criticism of gasoline and oil price increases put into effect in this country since the program started, and of the failure to attain the 500,000-barrels-a-day goal set for shipments of crude oil to Europe.

A Joint Senate Antimonopoly Interior subcommittee has launched a broad inquiry into the formation of a government-sanctioned committee of major oil companies to handle the emergency oil shipments. It also is looking into the domestic effects of the program.

The program was put into operation after the closing of the Suez Canal last fall cut off Western Europe from most of its Middle Eastern oil supplies.

The subcommittee is looking into the effect of a recent 35-cent-a-barrel boost in crude oil prices on domestic utility costs and rates.

Kefauver's assertion in an interview that the government might have to take over the emergency oil program was more strongly worded than a somewhat similar statement made by President Eisenhower at his news conference yesterday.

Eisenhower said that Europe must not be left "flat on its back" for lack of oil and he indicated that unless the flow of oil to Europe is stepped up, the federal government may have to move in.

During yesterday's hearing, Asst. Secretary of the Interior Felix E. Wormser said he had received word from Continental Oil Co., Houston, Tex., that it was complying with a government request for reduction of refinery runs so more crude oil would be available for shipment to Europe.

Hughesville, Sedalia Budweiser, Fayette Lions and the Whiteman Air Force Base, were the winners in first round games played at Horace Mann school in the annual Sedalia Lions Club Invitational Basketball Tournament, Wednesday night. The quarter final games will be played tonight starting at 6:30 o'clock.

GAMES TONIGHT

6:30—Sedalia Hamm's vs. Hughesville.
7:45—Whiteman AFB vs. Warsaw Lions.
9:00—Sedalia Budweiser vs. Lees Summit.
10:15—Windsor Gamble Store vs. Fayette Lions.

Opening the first rounds Wednesday night was Hughesville and the Windsor International Shoe Co., resulting in a lopsided game won by Hughesville 97 to 37. Hughesville advances to the quarter finals to meet Sedalia Hamm's Beer in the opener tonight.

Hughesville had everything its way from the tip of the ball and especially after the first quarter. In the opening quarter Hughesville ran up a 25 to 4 score. The second quarter was 22-9, Hughesville with the halftime lead being 47-13. In the third quarter Hughesville again led the scoring 21-5 and also in the fourth 29 to 9.

Gregory and Murphy of Hughesville are definitely looking for the scoring honors of the tournament, with Gregory hitting 15 goals and six free throws for 36 points while Murphy fired in 17 goals and one free throw for 35 points. For Windsor, Bradley was high with 5-4 for 14 points and Bilbruck had eight points.

The second game was an easy one for the Sedalia Budweiser after the first quarter with Clinton. The Sedalians won the contest 81-41.

The opening stanza saw the two teams battling away for the lead with Budweiser having the edge 14-8, but the second quarter the locals picked up and fired in 21 to six points for a halftime lead of 35-14. In the third and fourth quarters it was Budweiser 24-10 and 22-17.

Bill Holst led the local attack with nine and two 20 points followed by Jim Fall with seven-one for 15 points. For Clinton it was M. Eaton with 7-4 for 18 points and Thompson with a 5-5 for 15 points.

Budweiser meets Lees Summit at 9 o'clock tonight in the quarter finals.

The Fayette Lions gave the tournament officials a surprise when they arrived in town with but six of their players and went to work to win a game from one of the favored teams, California. The Lions took the game with a 14 point margin of 68 to 54. It was the third game.

The Lions wasted no time in trying to build a score in case something happened they might fall short of players. Opening the first quarter they scored 16 to 6, then added 18 to 7 in the second to lead

Boston Sends Pitcher To Oklahoma Team On a Recall Basis

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox still are hopeful of salvaging a big investment in sore-armed Frank Baumann, a south paw pitcher signed for a $100,000 bonus in 1952.

Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin announced yesterday that Baumann has been optioned on a 24-hour recall basis to Oklahoma City of the Texas League so that he can train "without pressure."

Baumann, now 23, developed a sore arm in the opening weeks last season and spent most of the summer at his home in St. Louis. He has not thrown a ball since last July.

Orton, Myers In State Title Bout Tuesday

Rugged wrestling remains in the spotlight throughout America today and Sedalia's matchmaker, Gust Karras, is keeping the Army matches abreast with the times.

The sports public today demands action aplenty and professional wrestling seems to be providing the thrills everybody wants to see. Without question the headlined match signed for the Army ring next Tuesday rates as one of the most rugged contests ever scheduled for this city. The clash pits Sonny Myers in a defense of the Missouri state heavyweight championship against Bob Orton, the ruthless Kansas giant and challenger.

Orton, towering at 6-4 is the fastest big man in the ring today. He has even exceeded Tarzan Kowalski in offensive striking power. The Missouri championship rates as one of the richest prizes in Mid-Western wrestling, both financially and prestige-wise. For two decades Missouri has remained the Mecca for heavyweight wrestling. Every national headliner had to make the grade in this state before he could gain nationwide acclaim. To have reigned as the Missouri champion is the greatest testimonial any wrestler can use.

Myers offered no objection to putting the title on the line against the Orton challenge. He told the matchmaker there's no sense in delaying the showdown.

Speed will definitely be Myers' long suit in the forthcoming Tuesday clash. Myers also is a master of the Japanese sleeper grip and he can become a hero among the area fans if he sends the Kansas bully into forced slumber.

Mystery will shroud the semi-weekend when the Night Terror, a m a s k e d 240-pound marauder storms into the local ring. The Terror has issued an open challenge to meet all comers.

First man to accept the Terror's arrogant defy is Larry (Elvis Presley) Hamilton, who has shown in recent matches here that he can handle himself against any type of assault in the ring.

The Terror is never without his full facial hood which he wears both in and out of the ring. Under the terms of his contract, the Terror will continue to veil his identity under the mask until he's pinned in a deciding fall.

The only hint to the Terror's identity is the fact he comes from the Canadian hinterlands. He wrestled under the mask in Canada for more than a year—and he still hasn't been forced to unmask. Hungarian-born Johann Koenig and the blond Ohio bomber, Rip Hawk, will square off in another slam-dinger which opens Tuesday's card. Both Hawk and Koenig arrived on the Mid-West mat scene at the first of the year and they have rapidly forged to the front in regional ratings. Koenig will be staking his No. 3 rating against the Hawk.

The sponsoring Legion post has placed tickets for next Tuesday's matches on advance sale at the Midway Shoe Repair shop and the Pacific Cafe. The matches start Tuesday night at 8:15.

Tucson Tourney Short on Top Golf Players

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Good putting was at a premium as the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tournament opened today on the straight and easy El Rio Country Club course.

The sponsors' ire was softened somewhat when a few more top golfers showed up yesterday, but nine of last year's top money winners are still missing.

After the Professional Golfers Assn. was accused of a "breach of faith" for not providing top players, Gene Littler flew in from San Diego, Doug Ford returned from his sick son's bedside in New York and Fred Hawkins came from El Paso, Tex.

"This will develop into a putting contest," PGA tournament supervisor Harvey Raynor predicted. "The greens are excellent. The man with the best shots on the greens will be the winner."

Raynor won't be surprised if someone shoots a 60 to equal the PGA tourney record set by Mike Souchak at San Antonio in 1955.

Mack's Creek, Lincoln Split 2 Cage Wins

Lincoln High rolled impressively past Mack's Creek in a varsity basketball game at Lincoln Wednesday night to a 72-58 victory. In an accompanying game, Mack's Creek's "B" squad dumped the host "B's" by 37-30.

Lincoln dashed ahead in the opening minutes of the varsity contest and pulled to a 37-29 advantage at halftime. Domination by the hosts continued through the second half for a closing 14-point edge.

Mack's Creek gained consolation in the "B" game by tabulating a 20-12 lead at the midway mark and holding the margin through a head-to-head second half battle. Leading the scoring for the varsity Lincolinites was Davis who poured in 26 points for the victors, followed by teammate Kreissler with 16. Bonner headed up the Mack's Creek aggregation with a 16-points total.

"B" game scoring honors went to Smothers of Mack's Creek who pulled 17 points against Lincoln's J. Meyers who accounted for eight.

Schmakel Is Named Assistant Football Coach at Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Warren Schmakel, 35, former head coach at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, Mich., was named an assistant football coach at the University of Nebraska today.

Nebraska Athletic Director Bill Orwig said Schmakel will receive $7,000 a year. Since 1954 Schmakel has been chief of the plans and operations section of the United States Army European Athletic office. He is scheduled to report here about Feb. 20. Schmakel was assistant to Orwig for two years when Orwig coached at Toledo, and held coaching posts at Miami (Ohio) and Michigan.

These Simple Qualities Are Required

Little men, take heart! You too can be an athletic whiz like Chet Forte of Columbia, the nation's leading college basketball scorer.

All you need is an unerring shot from anywhere on the court, a wrong-foot jump shot and a variety of driving layups. That, plus a total disregard of towering opponents.

Forte plumped home 36 points as his Lions lost to Yale 103-97 last night. This gave the 5-foot-9 pre-mid senior 451 points in 15 games for an average of 30.67. Seven-foot Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas has a 29.78 average for 14 games.

Despite Forte, Yale used 31-point shooting by Larry Downs and a 30 points from John Lee to squelch the Lions and become runner-up to Princeton in the Ivy League at 5-1. Columbia (4-2) dropped to third.

Elsewhere, Louisville, rated sixth nationally in the Associated Press poll, lost its second straight. Little Morehead, the nation's leading rebounders, applied the boot 85-74. It was rebounding, particularly that of the Eagles' Steve Hamilton, that undid Louisville. Hamilton grabbed 27 of Morehead's 58 rebounds and topped the scoring with 35 points.

Another of the nation's elite, 14th-ranked Canisius, was turned back 81-80 by Marquette. Warriors soph Mike Mian helped apply the crusher with 34 points.

Conference battling was on the light side. Penn beat Brown 67-66 in the Ivy League. Princeton's Ivy rulers suffered first-period shakes but calmed to overtake Rutgers 69-53.

Dayton went to a double-overtime before quelling Miami of Ohio 68-67 and Temple foiled a Villanova comeback to beat the Wildcats 81-72.

Eddie Brown of the Chicago Bears completed 96 passes in 168 attempts for 1,667 yards to lead the National Football League in 1956. Eleven of his passes were good for touchdowns.

Trophies In Kansas City Golden Gloves

The greatest array of trophies in the history of Golden Gloves will be presented winners in the 22nd Annual Kansas City Tournament of Champions, sponsored by Teamster's Joint Council, No. 56, Feb. 13, 14 and 16 in the Municipal Auditorium, at Kansas City.

Labor groups in all parts of the country are offering trophies to swell the imposing list of prizes. In addition to medals and trophies for winners and runner-ups in all divisions, a handsome team trophy will be presented by the Michigan State Conference of Teamsters. A Sportsman Trophy is offered by Paul Dorfman, Chicago insurance executive and former boxer.

The team championship trophy, awarded to the coach of the Greater Kansas City Boxing Team amassing greatest number of points, will be given by Teamster's Joint Council, No. 56.

Special trophies for winners in various weights are offered by Teamster groups throughout America. They follow:

Teamster's Joint Council, No. 13, St. Louis, heavyweight champion; Teamster's Joint Council, No. 25, Chicago, light heavyweight champion; Western Conference of Teamsters, Los Angeles, middleweight champion; Indiana Conference of Teamsters, Indianapolis, Ind., welterweight champion; Iowa Conference of Teamsters, Des Moines, lightweight champion; Missouri Kansas Conference of Teamsters, St. Louis, featherweight champion; Southern Conference of Teamsters, Dallas, bantamweight champion; Eastern Conference of Teamsters, New York City, flyweight champion; Ohio State Conference of Teamster's Cleveland, outstanding ability and Central State Conference of Teamsters, Chicago, best prospect.

All proceeds from the Golden Gloves Tournament, over the actual costs, go to charity, earmarked for the benefit of youth club activity. The eliminations, starting Wednesday, Feb. 13, continue Thursday, Feb. 14. Championship battles in both open and novice classes are on Saturday night, Feb. 16. Winners here advance to Chicago. Novices go as spectators for the western Nationals in the Stadium where open class champions fight on to New York ring glory.

Tickets for the Gloves can be obtained through the office of the Sedalia Teamsters Local Union 534. Those interested can contact Royal Cowger, local union official who has more than 200 at his disposal.

Eddie Brown of the Chicago Bears completed 96 passes in 168 attempts for 1,667 yards to lead the National Football League in 1956. Eleven of his passes were good for touchdowns.

Eighth Air Force Observes Its 15th Year

This past week the Eighth Air Force with headquarters at Westover Air Force Base, Mass., celebrated its 15th birthday in its colorful history. The famous Eighth was the first to prove United States Air Force concepts of strategic bombardment in battle during World War II.

The Eighth was activated in a National Guard Armory at Savannah, Ga., Jan. 28, 1942, under command of Col. Asa N. Duncan. This was the beginning of an organization that was destined to become a major factor in forcing the unconditional surrender of Nazi Germany.

At the end of World War II, statistics showed the Eighth's personnel and aircraft had flown over 600,000 sorties, dropped more than 700,000 tons of bombs and destroyed 15,500 enemy planes. Thirteen members of the Eighth were awarded the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military tribute. Its ultimate victory over the Nazi Luftwaffe in World War II was not bought cheaply for the command suffered 43,000 casualties during its combat operations.

On Nov. 1, 1946, the Eighth became a part of the newly formed Strategic Air Command. Immediately it began the intensive training toward combat readiness that has marked the post-war history of SAC. The first major change came in June, 1948, when it received its first B-36 inter-continental bomber. The mighty aircraft outmoded the B-29 and the B-50, then in use, and became the Eighth's principal aircraft for the next seven years.

In mid-1955, the nature of the Eighth Air Force changed considerably as it received new bases in the Northeast and Midwest, including Whiteman AFB, and the 340th Bombardment Wing. The changes also brought to the command for the first time multi-engine jet aircraft — B/RB 47's. Headquarters moved from Carswell AFB, Tex., to Westover AFB, Mass. In August, Maj. Gen. J. B. Montgomery retired from the service and was succeeded by Maj. Gen. Walter C. Sweeney Jr., the present commander.

The year 1956 was highlighted by the introduction into the Eighth Air Force of the B-52 heavy jet bomber. These eight jet-engine Stratofortresses are now assigned to two Eighth Air Force bases at Loring AFB, Me., and Westover AFB, Mass. In November of 1956, four Loring AFB B-52's took part in a lengthy training mission during which they remained aloft for 32 hours and flew 17,000 miles, circling the upper part of the North American Continent from the Gulf of Mexico to the North Pole.

This year promises even more strategic air power responsibilities for the Eighth Air Force, as the command is scheduled to assume jurisdiction over bases in Newfoundland and Greenland that formerly came under the Northeast Air Command. When this takes place, the Eighth Air Force will have geographic responsibility over an area the size of the United States.

J. Siefkas to Assist In Directing 3-Act Play

Jim Siefkas, senior at Missouri University, has been selected assistant director of a three-act play, "Summer and Smoke," which will be presented Feb. 22 and 23 by the Missouri University Workshop players. He will also be stage manager. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Siefkas, Marshall Junction.

Science Is Important Weapon

William Hopkins Tells Sorosis Members About FBI Techniques

Interesting facts on how the FBI works were given by William C. Hopkins, former FBI special agent and special agent supervisor for 11 years, in his talk Monday afternoon before members of Sorosis at the Heard Memorial Club House.

Fingerprints, he said, are one of the greatest aids in solving crimes, and the FBI now has more than 100 million fingerprints in its files. World War II enabled them to Washington where the palm print was left on the door knob. This palm print has exonerated every suspect of the crime, he said.

Another means by which 25 per cent of the cases are solved, the speaker said, is science. A scientific library is accessible to law enforcement officers and these files have about everything. Adhesive tape, used often to bind the hands and mouth of a person, through the scientific files, will lead to the capture of the criminal. The type of adhesive tape used, the store that sells such tape, the store that has sold a great quantity—each little detail is worked on to give the clue.

Then there is the paint on cars. The paint used on each type of car is in the file. One case told about by Hopkins was of a man killed by a hit-and-run driver. An FBI agent happened to be in the town just after the victim was buried and asked the sheriff to have the body exhumed. Particles of paint were sucked from the man's clothing, it was determined that the car was a red deluxe Chevrolet and the car and driver were located.

There are many types of cases the FBI do not handle, Hopkins said. They have nothing to do with narcotics because that is handled by the Bureau of Narcotics. Counterfeiting is handled by the Secret Service, income tax violations by the Internal Revenue, alcohol cases by the Alcohol Tax Unit; immigration crimes by the Immigration Department; and postal violations by the Postal Inspectors.

The three classes handled by the FBI are civil, criminal and internal security. All persons connected with the "Voice of America" are checked by the FBI. When former President Truman asked for a check of government employees, they were refingerprinted and if the fingerprints were not in the "disloyal" files, they were left at their work. Only a few, Hopkins said, were dismissed and they were not necessarily disloyal people. They were dismissed for character and morals, and while they did not intend to be disloyal, they were being used by Communists.

He told of one young girl who had gone from a small town to Washington, D.C., was terribly lonesome and wanted to join some organization to get acquainted. Someone suggested she join the Washington Book Shop, a subversive organization. She went a couple of times and then dropped out, but she was listed as a member of the club, investigated and found to be acceptable in every way.

DEBT'S A LONG HAUL—Something of an understatement was President Eisenhower's remark in his fiscal 1958 budget message that "The successive reductions in the debt from 1956 through 1958 are modest in relation to its size." That's apparent on Newschart above, which shows how the increases (cross-hatch) in the public debt during 1953, 1954 and 1955 were turned into reductions in 1956 and (estimated) 1957 and 1958. Budget surpluses of those years were used to reduce the debt. Only $1.4 billion of 1958's $1.8 billion surplus will be so applied.

Hopkins told of the young man from Germany who was a naturalized American. He was just going back to Germany on a visit to see his parents before World War

II, was met as he entered Germany and told he was to spy for that country. He was given money, told to contact a certain spy in the United States and keep radio contact with Germany, giving information. He returned to the United States, contacted the FBI, told them the story, and they immediately rented him a room for an office, put his name on it, put a camera in the wall, put a calendar and clock on the desk so the date and the hour would both be photographed. Spies visited him, they talked, the talks were recorded and the pictures, obtained. He kept in contact with Germany, giving the wrong information, and Germany was paying the bill.

The FBI was started in 1908 and at that time it was not civil service status but political pull that secured the jobs. In 1924 J. Edgar Hoover was called in and asked to take over. He said he would on one condition, that politicians be replaced by college men with rigid training. Hopkins said when he went in, the training schedule was 16 weeks of training from nine in the morning until nine at night, and one to six on Sundays. Now it is 18 weeks with many types of training.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. George T. Lockett, civics chairman.

Mrs. Harold Dean, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. William B. Rich, art and drama chairman, announced that Mrs. Ben Page, Kansas City, would be the speaker next week and show "One Hundred Years of Wedding Gowns." Mrs. Page will bring the gowns with her, and new members, since it is the new members' program, will model the gowns. The luncheon will be at 12 o'clock instead of 12:30 o'clock this week.

Heart Cookies Are Pleasing, Thrifty

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
How about filling the cookie jar with Valentines? These heart-shaped cookies are fine to serve the family, from small fry to Grandpa. We like them in the morning with a glass of milk or a good cup of tea. They're not very sweet or rich but they do have a crisp texture and a delicate honey-spice flavor that are pleasing. The ready-to-eat whole bran cereal in the cookies adds to the crunchiness — and it is thrifty to use, too.

VALENTINE WAFERS
Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon and 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves, 1/4 teaspoon ground allspice, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup honey, 1/2 cup whole bran cereal.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking soda, cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Cream butter and honey. Crush bran slightly; you can do this by running a rolling pin back and forth over the bran two or three times. Add crushed bran and sifted flour mixture to creamed mixture; mix thoroughly. Chill. Roll out a small portion of the dough at one time very very thin — less than 1-16-in. if possible. Use a prepared pastry cloth with a stockinet-covered floured rolling pin. Cut out cookies with floured heart-shaped cookie cutter. Place cookies a couple of inches apart on buttered baking sheets. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 8 to 10 minutes — depending on size of cookies. Remove to racks with spatula. Cool. Store in a tightly covered container and cookies will retain their crispness well. Makes 7 1/2 dozen very thin crisp cookies, using small (1 1/2 inch) heart-shaped cookie cutter.

RECIPE NOTE
These Valentine Wafers are made with no other sweetening than honey. Recent research by the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows that substituting honey for all or part of the sugar in some baked goods may improve their color, flavor and texture. In chewy cookies, such as fruit bars and brownies, honey was used to replace over half of the usual amount of sugar called for; the opinion of researchers was that the honey used in these specific recipes achieved a particularly desirable result.

Dr. White to Attempt Measurement of Giant Whale's Heart Beat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Eisenhower's heart specialist will attempt—by helicopter—to measure the heartbeats of giant grey whales.

Dr. Paul Dudley White heads an expedition which departed yesterday for remote Scammon Lagoon, off the Baja California coast, where the 60-foot whales bear their young.

Hovering 25 feet overhead, the helicopter crew will shoot a harpoon into the mammals. A line from the dart to a floating sealed will relay the sound of the heartbeats to a shore station. There they will be relayed again to a yacht in the lagoon where the actual recording will be made by Dr. White.

He hopes to glean information helpful in treating human heart trouble.

Used Clothing Needed For Hungarian Refugees

The Pettis County Chapter of the American Red Cross has received a letter from the St. Louis regional office asking for new and good used clothing for the Hungarian refugees who will arrive in this country in the future and numbering in the thousands. Since these people have left most of their personal belongings behind, clothes for them are a necessity. The Sedalia dry cleaners have agreed to clean any good used clothing for the Red Cross without charge.

The letter was addressed to John C. Ryan, chairman of the local chapter. Its text follows:

"The many services of the American Red Cross to Hungarian refugees have been a notable demonstration of the ability of Red Cross to meet the unusual variety of needs arising in an emergency.

Americans Fail In Expressing Their Affections

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

How long has it been since you told your husband that you love him?

How long has it been since you stopped and looked at him and said, for no reason except that you wanted to: "You're the most wonderful guy in the world?"

Have you remembered lately to kiss him goodnight in the morning as if you meant it, and to tell him how well he looks in his new suit?

Or have you been so immersed in the daily details of living that you haven't taken time to express your affection for the people you love most?

Chances are, if you're an average American, your score on the above questions won't be so good. For Americans, especially in our high-pressure current era, seem to find it difficult to express the simple, natural affection that makes the world go round.

This has been the observation of a modern career woman named Charlotte Thompson, who, like so many of us, spends her days in a hectic round of business activities, but who has decided that no job is more important than her home and family. And so she has decided to do something about it.

Charlotte, who looks like the magazine illustration of a poised, successful business woman, has organized a group which she calls the Valentines Day Council, of which she is executive director. Its object is to re-establish the importance of old-fashioned romantic love, and to encourage everyday, busy people to express it.

Chapters can be justly proud of the outstanding contribution they have made in the total effort thus far. We feel confident your chapter is willing to extend further help in meeting the needs of these people who have left their homeland with little of their worldly possessions.

"Within the very near future additional thousands of refugees are expected to arrive at Joyce Kilmer Reception Center, New Jersey. As a result, there will be an immediate demand for the following categories of clothing: (men's) suits, jackets, sweaters, and overcoats; (women's) suits, skirts, sweaters, blouses and winter coats.

"In order to stretch Hungarian relief contributions as far as possible and simultaneously meet the total need in an adequate manner, an appeal for new and good used clothing for Hungarian refugee relief is being directed to a limited number of chapters.

"Your chapter is asked to undertake to supply each of the above listed clothing items for 25 men and 15 women. You will be meeting the primary clothing needs of these individual refugees, thus lessening the demands on the Red Cross financial resources.

"It is important that the bulk of the used and new clothing collected by the Church World Service and other organizations during the Hungarian crisis has been sent overseas for distribution. All clothing collected by the Red Cross in the present project will be distributed to refugees arriving at Joyce Kilmer Reception Center.

"We sincerely appreciate your cooperation in this truly urgent situation. Inasmuch as most refugees escaping from Hungary do so with a bare minimum of personal effects, many having traveled up to 70 miles on foot over back roads and across country, the need for clothing is great. Please let us know your progress in this effort."

Sedalia's Anna Baker Adorns TWA Schedule

Anna Rose Baker, whose picture has appeared on countless magazine covers and who has appeared on television programs and in motion pictures, is still flying high. This time her picture is on the front of the TWA schedule.

Anna Rose is the daughter of Mrs. George Baker, 912 West Fourth, and frequently comes back home for a visit with her mother.

Although requested, the United States refused to approve annexation of the Dominican Republic in 1868-70 after Spain had relinquished sovereignty.

Heart Cake For The Valentine Table

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If a heart-shaped cake is your fancy for a Valentine party, here's your recipe. It's a tender cake, made with four egg whites and bits of maraschino cherries to add Cupid's color.

We used the four egg yolks left over from the cake for a generous amount of filling—the sort everyone likes in Boston Cream Cake. Cover your heart cake with a white or pink-tinted frosting and decorate with another heart made of cherries. The frosting may, of course, be homemade or one of the fluffy varieties that now come in a packaged mix all ready to be made up.

The heart-shaped pans this cake is baked in are widely available because they are now marketed by three manufacturers. But if you haven't heart pans on hand, you can bake the cake in two regular 8-inch round layer-cake pans.

SWEETHEART CAKE

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup butter or margarine, 3/4 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup water, the sugar, cornstarch, flour and salt in a medium-sized saucepan. Add 1/2 cup of the milk and stir until smooth; stir in remaining milk. Cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened and boiling; this may take about 20 minutes. Make sure mixture is very thick. Beat the egg yolks slightly; gradually beat a little of the hot mixture in saucepan. Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat about 5 minutes. If mixture is not very thick, increase heat and stirring constantly, let boil for several minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and vanilla. Strain; cover and chill. Use as filling for Sweetheart Cake.

SWEETHEART FILLING

Ingredients: 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups milk, 4 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

Method: Mix together thoroughly 4 egg whites, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup (about 10) finely chopped well-drained maraschino cherries.

Method: Sift together the cake flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, 3/4 cup sugar and vanilla. Beat in gently the sifted dry ingredients, alternately with the milk and water, in four additions. Beat only until smooth. Beat egg whites until foamy; beat in 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time; continue to beat if necessary until stiff straight-up peaks can be formed when beater is slowly withdrawn. Fold meringue and drained chopped cherries into flour mixture. Turn into two prepared 8-inch heart or round layer-cake pans. (To prepare pans, grease bottom; line bottom with waxed paper; grease paper.) Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on racks; turn right side up so tops of cakes won't stick to racks. Cool. Fill with Sweetheart Filling. Frost as desired with white or pink icing; garnish with slivered maraschino cherries arranged in a heart shape. Be sure to dry cherry slivers on a paper towel before using as a garnish so they won't "run."

MARASCHINO CHERRIES add Cupid's color to cake.

Temperate Objections

The other day a local taxpayer gave as his substantial reason against the City of Sedalia buying the waterworks system one entirely unrelated to the financing of the proposed revenue bond issue of $2,700,000.

His objection was that the city was buying the new one million gallon capacity elevated storage tank at Main and Massachusetts which the water company was afraid to turn on because the pressure would blow up the city mains. As a result when there was a fire the water pressure wasn't sufficient to play a stream two stories high.

To convince to the contrary any one or more persons who believe this, we suppose nothing short of a public demonstration by the fire fighters may become necessary; and a ceremonial by water company employees at the storage tank turning the control valves on and off just to prove that the tank is tied in with the system.

Actually purposes of the storage tank are for water reserve and equalization of pressure in the system to take out the bumps, instead of making more of them.

Another objection heard is a contradiction of the claim that 90% of all waterworks systems in the U.S. are municipally owned. If only 75% were municipally owned that would still be a sizeable contrast.

Some others say the city water system would become a swimming pool for political pearl divers to enrich themselves. If so, they would have to accomplish this as administrators on a Bi-partisan Water Board, acting for all the citizens. If such an operation is so ineffectual, then why continue the Hospital Board or the Library Board or any other bi-partisan board?

Actually the operation of the water system under municipal ownership will be by skilled technical personnel, and the Missouri State Board of Health will continue to supervise this operation.

The usual demagogic charge of graft is always a device of dissidents to obstruct progress.

If there are any solid objections to the city purchasing the water system they should be based on points of vulnerability regarding the purchase price and financing. We have heard the Citizens Water Committee give its analysis on the basis of competent engineering appraisal and personal review of the entire proposal. Up to now we have heard no valid refutation of their recommendations.

By purchasing the waterworks system the City of Sedalia is not embarking upon experiment. Municipal systems are operating in 90% of communities in the United States.

Currently Warrensburg council has authorized a contract with accountants and engineers to make an appraisal of the Warrensburg-Pertle Springs Water Company, and authorized the mayor to notify that company that Warrensburg desires to exercise an option in the water company's franchise for the city to purchase the property.

This week in Springfield a purchase price of 19 million dollars for the Springfield City Water Company has been agreed upon. A revenue bond issue probably will be submitted to the voters before June 1 for the city to buy that property.

We have company.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Joe Louis and His Income Tax Problem

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — If ex-heavyweight boxing champ Joe Louis should make a million dollars a year he probably could not pay the government all his back taxes before he dies.

This is because Joe didn't realize how big his tax bracket was when money came easy, got behind in his payments, and the government is now charging him interest at the rate of nearly $100,000 a year. If he made a million dollars a year, his annual income tax would be $90,000, and he would be able to pay the government only $90,000 on his back taxes—less than the annual bill for interest.

Joe has taken up wrestling lately, and in the past three months has paid the government $124,000. However, the Treasury recently attached a $65,000 trust fund Joe left his children, and he still has a balance of $1,119,437 to pay including principal, penalty, and interest.

Joe's lawyers say they have discussed a settlement with the government, but so far, have had little encouragement. Meanwhile, ex-heavyweight champ Jack Dempsey, who is now running a restaurant, has started a fund, along with John Youngheim and George Reeves Jr., of Chicago, to help Louis with his huge tax debt.

Interesting question about the Joe Louis tax case is what yardstick the Treasury uses to compromise a tax case. To answer the question, this column scrutinized some of the tax settlements on record in the Treasury and came away more puzzled than ever. It seemed to depend in part on what lawyer or accountant you hired.

How Are Taxes Settled?

For instance, the American Distilling Co. owed the Treasury $13,000,000. It settled for a little over $1,000,000 or 10 cents on the dollar. It hired the tax accounting firm of T. Coleman Andrews, who later became commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Here are some other tax cases recently settled:

Jack Berk, who, with his wife Anne, ran the Vicmore Belt Co. in Flushing, N.Y., owed the Treasury $127,879, settled for $11,000. He presented a doctor's certificate that he had a heart condition and the Treasury let him off with less than 10 cents on the dollar.

Newman's Lake House, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., owed $152,605.69 and made a compromise payment of $20,000, of which $2,000 was a down payment, with $3,600 paid annually in five installments at 6 per cent interest. The restaurant is owned by Mrs. Catherine King and her father, John J. King, Sr. The settlement was made because New York state refused to renew the restaurant's liquor license. It went heavily in debt.

Another case was that of ex-Congressman Parnell Thomas of New Jersey who served time for taking salary kickbacks. He owes $21,362, has a net worth of $11,200, and offered to compromise for $100. The Treasury refused, finally agreed to take payments from Thomas of all his income over $5,000 a year through the year 1961.

More of the Federal Communications' political chickens are coming home to roost. On top of the commissioners' reversal of their examiner in the Boston Herald and Traveler case, they are now in hot water in Jacksonville, Fla.

There, the FCC politicians who decide who shall get the multi-million-dollar television permits, reversed their own examiner and awarded a channel to the Florida-Georgia TV Company. The FCC examiner had ruled in favor of the Jacksonville Broadcasting Company, but, after politics were pulled, the FCC reversed the non-political expert who spent weeks listening to the testimony and deciding which applicant was best qualified to do a public-service job for the people of Jacksonville.

After making the award to the Florida-Georgia TV Company, it's now revealed that one of the chief promoters of that company, Harold Cohn, was formerly associated with the old Capone gang in the Florida dog tracks. This was not disclosed by Cohn, who owns 19 per cent of the station and who is required under FCC rules to disclose his record.

The Jacksonville Broadcasting Company has now filed an affidavit showing that Cohn was a "chart writer" with the Jacksonville Kennel Club and the Orange Park Kennel Club, largely owned by Bill Johnston of Chicago, exposed during the Kefauver crime investigation as an associate of underworld hoodlums. Another owner of the dog tracks was John Patton, Chicago gangster and former associate of Frank "The Enforcer" Nitti.

So much evidence of politics is piling up against the FCC that a major congressional investigation is almost certain to result.

Ex-Lobbyist Morton

Secretary of State Dulles is treating his former assistant secretary, Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, as if he still works for the State Department. Morton's former job was foreign policy lobbyist on Capitol Hill, and Dulles wants him to continue as a State Department lobbyist, despite his new rank of senator.

The Secretary of State has met privately with Morton a dozen times. In addition, Chief White House Lobbyist Wilton Persons has also been putting the pressure on Morton to help out. But so far Morton has refused to do any lobbying. He has confined himself to giving political advice.

Dulles also wants Morton to fight for the administration's Middle East program on the Senate floor. This is embarrassing for a freshman senator, who traditionally is supposed to be seen and not heard.

Mitchell Is Mollified

Secretary of Labor Mitchell was all set to resign last month until Ike talked him out of it. Mitchell explained that he wanted to go into private business and make some money.

But Ike said he needed Mitchell to help convince labor that the Republican party is their real friend. The President said he was even considering appointing Mitchell to the National Security Council, thus giving a labor a voice in top foreign policy.

Finally, Ike jokingly threatened: "If you quit, I quit." Mitchell agreed to remain.

Self-Righteousness Is Not In The Cards

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — No big power—including the United States—is in a position to be overly self-righteous if Israel refuses to obey the United Nations' resolution calling on her to get out of Egyptian territory.

Secretary of State Dulles made headlines this week when—asked if this country would join in trying to punish a stubborn Israel by using sanctions against her—he left his answer up in the air.

A careful reading of Dulles' answer shows it was so hedged that it was hardly an answer at all.

He said the United States would not by itself involve sanctions against Israel and would certainly have to think about it if the U.N. members wanted to use sanctions.

But Dulles on Tuesday and President Eisenhower on Wednesday expressed such confidence that Israel will obey the U.N.—although Israel is balking publicly—it's possible this country has assurance from Israel it will obey.

If their implied confidence turns out to be misplaced, the United States would have to be pretty self-righteous if it agreed to sanctions against Israel. And if Russia, Britain and France agreed, they'd look ridiculous.

The United States was one of those nations which, late last Saturday night in the U.N. approved the resolution against Israel. Israel argues that before it complies it wants guarantees

Egypt won't use the vacated territory for attacks on Israel.

The United States joined others in the U.N. in 1951 in calling on Egypt to stop blockading the Suez Canal against Israeli shipping. Egypt ignored the U.N. and the U.N. let Egypt get away with it.

But if the United States and the U.N. at that time had backed up their position, the action might have avoided some of the present confusion in the Middle East and the Suez Canal of last November.

Russia is in no position to want to punish Israel for disobeying the U.N. She repeatedly has ignored U.N. demands to get her troops out of Hungary, where she sent them to crush a revolt.

Britain and France obeyed the U.N. and stopped their invasion of Egypt last November. But by their very invasion they made a joke of an agreement they had made with the United States in 1950.

At that time the three powers promised "immediate action" to stop violation of frontiers or armistice lines by Israelis or Arabs. For years afterwards Israelis and Arabs crossed each other's frontiers in savage raids. And none of the three powers attempted to live up to its 1950 agreement.

Instead Britain and France, which had vowed to stop shooting and aggression in the Middle East, joined with Israel in committing aggression against Egypt.

The Mature Parent

Tell Angry Child How You Feel, Not How He Feels

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Gary was balancing himself on the sofa arm when his mother came into the living room. As he expected her to applaud his skill, at him crying "Can't I take my eyes off you a minute?" Swept from his glorious, commanding height on the sofa arm, he was overcome with bitterness at her interference in his life. Launching a kick at her, he flung himself into a tantrum.

His mother said, "You're angry with Mommy. You hate her. That's all right. All little children sometimes get angry with their Mommys."

But this child-guidance formula, guaranteed to soothe Gary, didn't. It made him madder. Losing all patience, he launched another kick at the interfering creature who wasn't satisfied with telling him what to do but had to tell him how he felt as well.

An angry child is quieted not by what we say but by the feeling behind what we say. If we truly feel it is all right for Gary to resent us, he is comforted to hear us say so.

He is relieved to know that, though anger has betrayed him into trying to kick us out of his life, we intend to remain in it and take care of him. He is inexplicably soothed to learn that his anger doesn't impress us.

But when, like Gary, he feels we are afraid of it, the child-guidance incantation can serve us no better than the sorcerer's magic served the apprentice in the fairytale.

Inexperienced parents usually feel a little scared of their youngster's anger. When this is true, let them not lie—and pretend they feel it is quite "all right."

Instead of telling Gary what he feels, let them tell him what they feel. Let them say, "I don't want to kick and scream, you are safe as a little nut in its shell with me."

To make a child believe that his anger at us is innocent and quite all right, we have to first acknowledge our own family angers. It means that behind our rages at our own parents, our own brothers and sisters—the very feelings of which we felt most ashamed and were punished for—we have discovered not badness at all, but fear of betrayal, of being abandoned.

It is the tenderness we have been able to feel toward our own childhood anger that we give to the anger of our youngster.

Ruth Millett Says

Surprise Accounting Is Due For One Tightwad Husband

"Why don't you ever write anything about stingy husbands?" one reader of this column wants to know.

She goes on to explain that she is married to one says, "I have to account for every penny I spend out of my household allowance while my husband spends whatever he wants to on whatever he wants. Believe me, it's no fun to never have a cent to call my own."

Then why do you put up with it? Look your husband in the eye next time he asks for an accounting of your household money and say, "I spent the household money as wisely as I know how, but I have no intention of accounting for every penny of it."

There's no sense in humoring a man until he becomes a tightfisted tyrant just to keep peace in the family.

And just because you have let him get away with demanding an accounting of every cent you spent in the past doesn't mean you can't stand up on your two feet and say, "I've had enough of being treated like a halfwit."

"I'm a partner in this marriage and as a partner I am perfectly capable of handling the household finances.

"I am also entitled to spend some money on myself, which I intend to do from now on."

Things may not be pleasant for a few days. But if you stick by your guns you'll get a satisfactory financial arrangement.

It's too bad you didn't start out right at the beginning of your marriage, for it is always easier to begin right than to make a change after years of doing things an unsatisfactory way.

But you owe it to yourself, to your husband and to your children to fight for your right to a full partnership in your marriage.

What have you got to lose?

Nearly half of the foreign students in the United States come here on their family's funds. The remainder receive financial assistance from private organizations in the United States. About ten per cent receive aid from United States and foreign governments.

Passage of School Aid Has Only 50-50 Chance

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The sad fact is that President Eisenhower's school aid program is now given only a little better than a 50-50 chance of passage by Congress this year.

This is in spite of a few factors that would indicate more favorable action.

The one very hopeful factor is that many congressmen campaigned last year on promises to vote for school aid legislation this year. Both party platforms endorsed the school aid. So politically, the climate for passage should be better.

Furthermore, the shortage of classrooms and teachers is greater this year than last. Pressure on congressmen from parents and local school officials to do something is getting heavier all the time.

But Pres. Eisenhower's school program which was presented to Congress this year is much the same as the program which Congress turned down last year. The objections to it are likewise still the same.

This puts the administration's legislative leaders up against the problem of planning new strategy.

In the long run, they hope it will permit passage of some kind of an aid to education program before the end of the session.

Early action is out.

Most promising aspect so far is the idea of having Congress take up civil rights legislation before tackling the school aid bill.

There is a growing sentiment among southern congressmen to allow passage of a minimum civil rights program this year. This arises for two purposes. First, it would satisfy northern leaders, of both major parties who want something done for their Negro voters. Second, it might quiet increased agitation for greater civil liberty by Negro leaders in the South.

If a limited civil rights program could be got through Congress along the lines proposed by President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message, it might do much to take the heat off school aid legislation.

It might permit passage of a school aid bill without a Powell amendment barring federal school construction funds to states that had not complied with the Supreme Court decision against segregated schools.

There is no doubt that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) will have such an amendment again this year. His amendment was passed last year. But it got some Democratic votes which were then switched to kill the school aid bill on final passage — 224 to 194, with 17 absent and not voting.

President Eisenhower wants a school aid law without the Powell amendment. A switch of 25 votes might do it.

To avoid another disastrous defeat in the House again this year, the principal strategy being talked of is to get the Senate to act on the school aid bill first. This assumes that the Senate would pass a bill without the anti-segregation amendment and that this would give the House the necessary incentive to approve the legislation in the same form.

But there is one other provision in the school aid bill which White House and Department of Health, Education and Welfare legislative liaison men fear. This is the Walsh-Healy Public Contracts Act. It provides that the Secretary of Labor shall set minimum wage rates for all labor employed on government contracts.

There is a Walsh-Healy provision in every public works appropriation bill. It goes through Congress without protest. But it can meet with opposition in the case of federal aid for school construction.

The reason is that this money would reach into many small towns and even into many rural communities where consolidated schools would be built by local, nonunion labor. Employers in these smaller communities object to having big city wage rates introduced and imposed upon them.

Finally, there is strong opposition to federal interference in public school affairs. There's a feeling that federal financial aid for school construction would be the foot-in-the-door to final federal control of local education.

Strong states-rightsers will do almost anything to stop that — excepting, of course, the raising of state and local taxes to pay for needed school construction in their own communities.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Rubber stamps are used to save time and effort when we would have to write the same word or words over and over again. Sometimes we use the rubber stamp without thinking about what we are doing. Occasionally we sign our names or give approval to projects or plans of others with the same thoughtlessness that we use with a rubber stamp.

In this world, where all people are different and where all of their viewpoints are important, we need to give individual attention to everything which affects people. If we become mere rubber stamps we fail others, and discredit our own personal integrity.

God created everyone differently. There is no such thing as a national personality or a mass uniformity. We cannot remake people into beings with the sameness of tin soldiers, and we should not act with thoughtless sameness ourselves.

White House Has Three Residents Instead of Two

By KENNETH GILMORE
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — You may think Ike and Mamie are the only ones who live at the White House these days. But there's a third party.

It's Ike, Mamie — and MIN.

She's a white-haired, harmonica-playing, alert, amusing and articulate 78-year-old lady named Elvera Carlson Doud. Her nickname is Min.

Her daughter is the First Lady of the Land. Her son-in-law is the Chief Executive of the U.S. Her settling influence on both is profound.

Furthermore, Mrs. John Doud is the first mother-in-law within the memory of living White House historians to be a resident of the executive mansion.

And unless someone wants to undertake a decade of historical research, she's most likely the first great-grandmother to live at the White House.

Despite a buoyant and gay personality, Min completely shuns limelight, and for this reason nothing is ever mentioned officially about her continued residence here in Washington.

It's a fact however that since the President had his heart attack in Colorado about a year and a half ago she has been spending practically all her time at the White House.

The high altitude in Min's hometown, Denver, Colo., rules out any more vacation visits there by Ike. At the same time, it's just as much a factor that the President and Mamie love to have her around.

Members of the Eisenhower family are now used to seeing Ike frown quickly, look around and say: "Where's Min?"

It was at his and Mamie's urging that she agreed to stay with them at the White House during the fall, winter and spring. During the summer months she returns to Denver where she has lived many years.

This Man Darville Collects Jobs Like Rare Butterflies

By HAL BOYLE
ANDROS, Bahamas (AP) — An American bureaucrat would shudder at the multiple duties of Stanley R. Darville, a political odd-job man in a warm climate.

Darville is one of 21 commissioners who handle government chores in some 2,000 Bahamas island and bays ranging over 70,000 square miles of ocean.

He is one of three commissioners to Andros, largest of the islands, and you can't be around here long without running into the chubby, smiling, 43-year-old official.

British colonial governments act on the same principle as the U.S. Army: "A trained officer can handle any job." If Darville wore a special hat for each of his jobs, he'd need at least 10 in his wardrobe.

When you land here, Darville as customs officer oversees the checking of your baggage. If you are caught smuggling in anything, he will, as police chief, have you arrested; and then, as magistrate hear your case.

If you wreck your yacht on a reef, Darville has to open an inquiry within 24 hours as wreck investigator.

If your home should go up in flames, Darville will drop around as fire inspector to be sure you didn't touch a match to it to collect the insurance.

If you mail a letter, you'll find out Darville is also postmaster.

If you want to get married quickly in a civil ceremony, who says the binding words? Darville.

If you die, Darville will issue the death certificate as coroner.

If you are born here, Darville will register your birth.

If you want to settle here permanently, Darville will handle your application as immigration officer.

"We are the only government officials who don't wear a uniform," said Darville. "When you get down to it, what uniform could we wear?"

The commissioner is of old French - Scottish Bahamian stock that first came to these "Sunshine Isles of June" in the 17th Century, not long after the Pilgrim Fathers hit the beaches in Massachusetts. He is official shepherd for some 2,500 Bahamian natives dwelling in a tangled pine and mangrove wilderness covering about 750 square miles. Most of the settlements can be reached by boat.

Although the Bahamas have had a long and violent past, replete with pirates and smugglers, the natives today are remarkably law-abiding.

"It isn't once a month I have to give a man a jail sentence," said Darville. "And in nine years as commissioner I've never had a murder case."

The Bahamian natives, although most live on the bare edge of existence, are proud in bearing and have great natural dignity.

"They would rather pay almost any fine than spend even a single night in jail," said Darville.

Few prisoners ever try to break out of the tiny two-cell jail here. Where could they go? If one escaped into the wilderness he would either starve or be immediately turned in by other natives.

Despite all his duties, Darville has a staff of only four men, including a clerk. He works around the clock many days, enjoys a seven-day work week.

The pay scale would hardly tempt an American politician into migrating here. Commissioners make $25 to $50 a week, plus housing, plus an occasional legal fee.

"But I like the life," said Darville. "You can help many people with their problems—and the feeling of satisfaction this gives you is a big part of your income."

Pvt. Shaw Is Member Of Army Tank Crew

Pvt. John M. Shaw, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Shaw, Knob Noster, recently completed ten weeks of advanced individual training under the packet platoon system at the Army's Armor Training Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

Shaw was trained to drive the Army's medium tank. He passed the .30 and .50 caliber machine gun proficiency tests and qualified as a gunner in the firing of the 90 millimeter tank gun.

Under the packet platoon system of training, each trainee becomes a permanent member of a tank crew.

Shaw, a 1956 graduate of Leeton High School, entered the Army last September and completed basic training at Fort Knox.

Job Office Crosses Ocean To Help Hungary Refugees

LINING UP A NEW FUTURE: Assistant Labor Secretary Rocco Siciliano looks on as Mrs. Rae Petrusan, Labor Office interpreter, checks job qualifications of a refugee at Camp Kilmer. ARTHUR W. MOTLEY: Dig-

By KENNETH GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Uncle Sam is now working overtime

along with private groups to make it possible for thousands of Hungarian refugees to face a secure job future in the United States.

Federal authorities here realize that America's reputation as a land of opportunity is squarely on the block as the gigantic refugee sea and air lift gets under way.

Assisted by a staff of Hungarian speaking experts, the U.S. Labor Department has set up an operation that stretches from Europe to Camp Kilmer, N.J., and thence to communities all over the nation.

From watchmakers to welders to salesmen to butchers, its objective is to give refugees the dignity of honest and lasting employment in the U.S.

"We're throwing in our full resources without throwing around our weight," says Arthur W. Motley, assistant director of the U.S. Employment Service.

"Our responsibility is to gather job information from refugees and then advise church and charity organizations on the best places to place them. We're giving sponsors the benefit of our knowledge."

For example, the employment service might tell religious groups at Kilmer that:

Machinists can find work in most states but their chances would be excellent in Flint, Mich., and Hyattsville, Md.

A shoemaker can get a job in Brockton, Mass., and St. Louis, Mo., but that he might have a hard time in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Electrical assembly workers are generally in demand, but it would be a good bet for them to go to Akron, Ohio, or Charlotte, N.C.

The Employment Service already has a team of 20 interviewers working at Camp Kilmer and 15 of them speak fluent Hungarian.

Simultaneously serving as interpreters for the U.S. Immigration Service, these men question every to settle them according to their skills," he explains. "It's a question of supply and demand, and we're giving sponsors the benefit of our knowledge."

At the same time teams of Hungarian speaking interviewers are going aboard Navy transports at Bremerhaven, Germany, which are scheduled to carry 6,000 refugees to the U.S.

On the voyage from Europe, they'll prepare a roster of occupational skills which will be turned over to personnel at Kilmer. The Labor Department has also just sent off an air shipment of special, simplified job forms for refugees to fill out on their way over.

Once Hungarians are moved into local areas, state employment agencies will be ready to give assistance when it's needed and requested.

Recently, for example, three Hungarian families arrived in McKeesport, Pa. Three adults in the group needed jobs and their sponsors went to the local employment office.

As a result, one man was placed as an electrician in a nearby hospital, another was hired as an assistant baker in a large bakery. A third, a widow, was employed as a sewing operator.

There are still problems to be ironed out, however. One of the biggest is the language barrier. A Labor Department official puts it this way:

"Up to now Hungarian speaking communities have been able to absorb these refugees, but they can take just so many people."

"In certain areas in Pennsylvania populated by numerous Americans of Hungarian descent there is a labor surplus."

"As more and more refugees come into the country, we'll have to become more active. That will probably mean more spot job placements for Hungarians instead of settling large blocks of refugees."

The Labor Department is also considering the possibility of setting up training programs with industry to orientate Hungarian workers to English and American techniques.

For instance, they must change from the metric system used in Hungary to measuring in inches and feet here.
